

Buying and selling your home

For most people, buying or selling a property is a major event in their lives and one which involves a considerable financial commitment. At Ritchie Neill we guide you through the legal process of moving home. Our aim is to provide advice on both the practical and legal aspects of the transaction, so that you feel reassured throughout the entire process. We pride ourselves on being able to take you through each stage with confidence and clear communication.

We can provide a free pre-sale valuation with itemised fee quotes for both sale and purchase. Our estate agency fees start from .05% and fixed price conveyancing rates combine to offer a highly competitive service in the property market. We have offices in Edinburgh and the Lothians, providing estate agency services throughout these areas. Ritchie Neill offers a wide range of legal services and you can find out more by contacting us directly or via our website.
